Competition at the top was tight as four troops tied with the same total score showing well constructed and appealing campsites. However, some other units were not aware of the criteria or even that there would be judging. Besides rewarding the top units for their effort and creativity, one of the reasons we are posting this scoresheet is to make all units aware of the criteria used by Peterloo to assess quality campsites.

Be advised, however, that campsite judging criteria may change from one encampment to the next based on different encampment criteria. Unit leaders should check with encampment organizers in advance to determine the criteria.

To break the tie at the top four troop sites for Peterloo and award winning positions, the judges made their final determinations based on overall impact, neatness, and esthetics. All four placing units should feel justly proud of their accomplishments, but special congratulations go to Troop 941.

We're looking forward to the next district encampment when we will again have the opportunity to see the energy and creativity of our troops in action.
